SENIOR CLASS of NORWOOD HIGH SCHOOL, NORWOOD, OHIO

Attention!

This book is for you who are still taking your basic training at Camp N. H. S. and the gallant seniors who have successfully completed their mission with bravery, far beyond the call. As you leaf through this Soldiers' Manual—we mean annual—we hope you will relive these memorable days at Norwood High. We picture ourselves at boot camp with the spotlight on those who are candidates for O. C. S. (college to you), and those embarking on business careers. From bugle call till we hit the sack, we show you our maneuvers: D. T., P. T., and M. T. (detention, physical training, mental training). Preliminaries completed—Forward March!

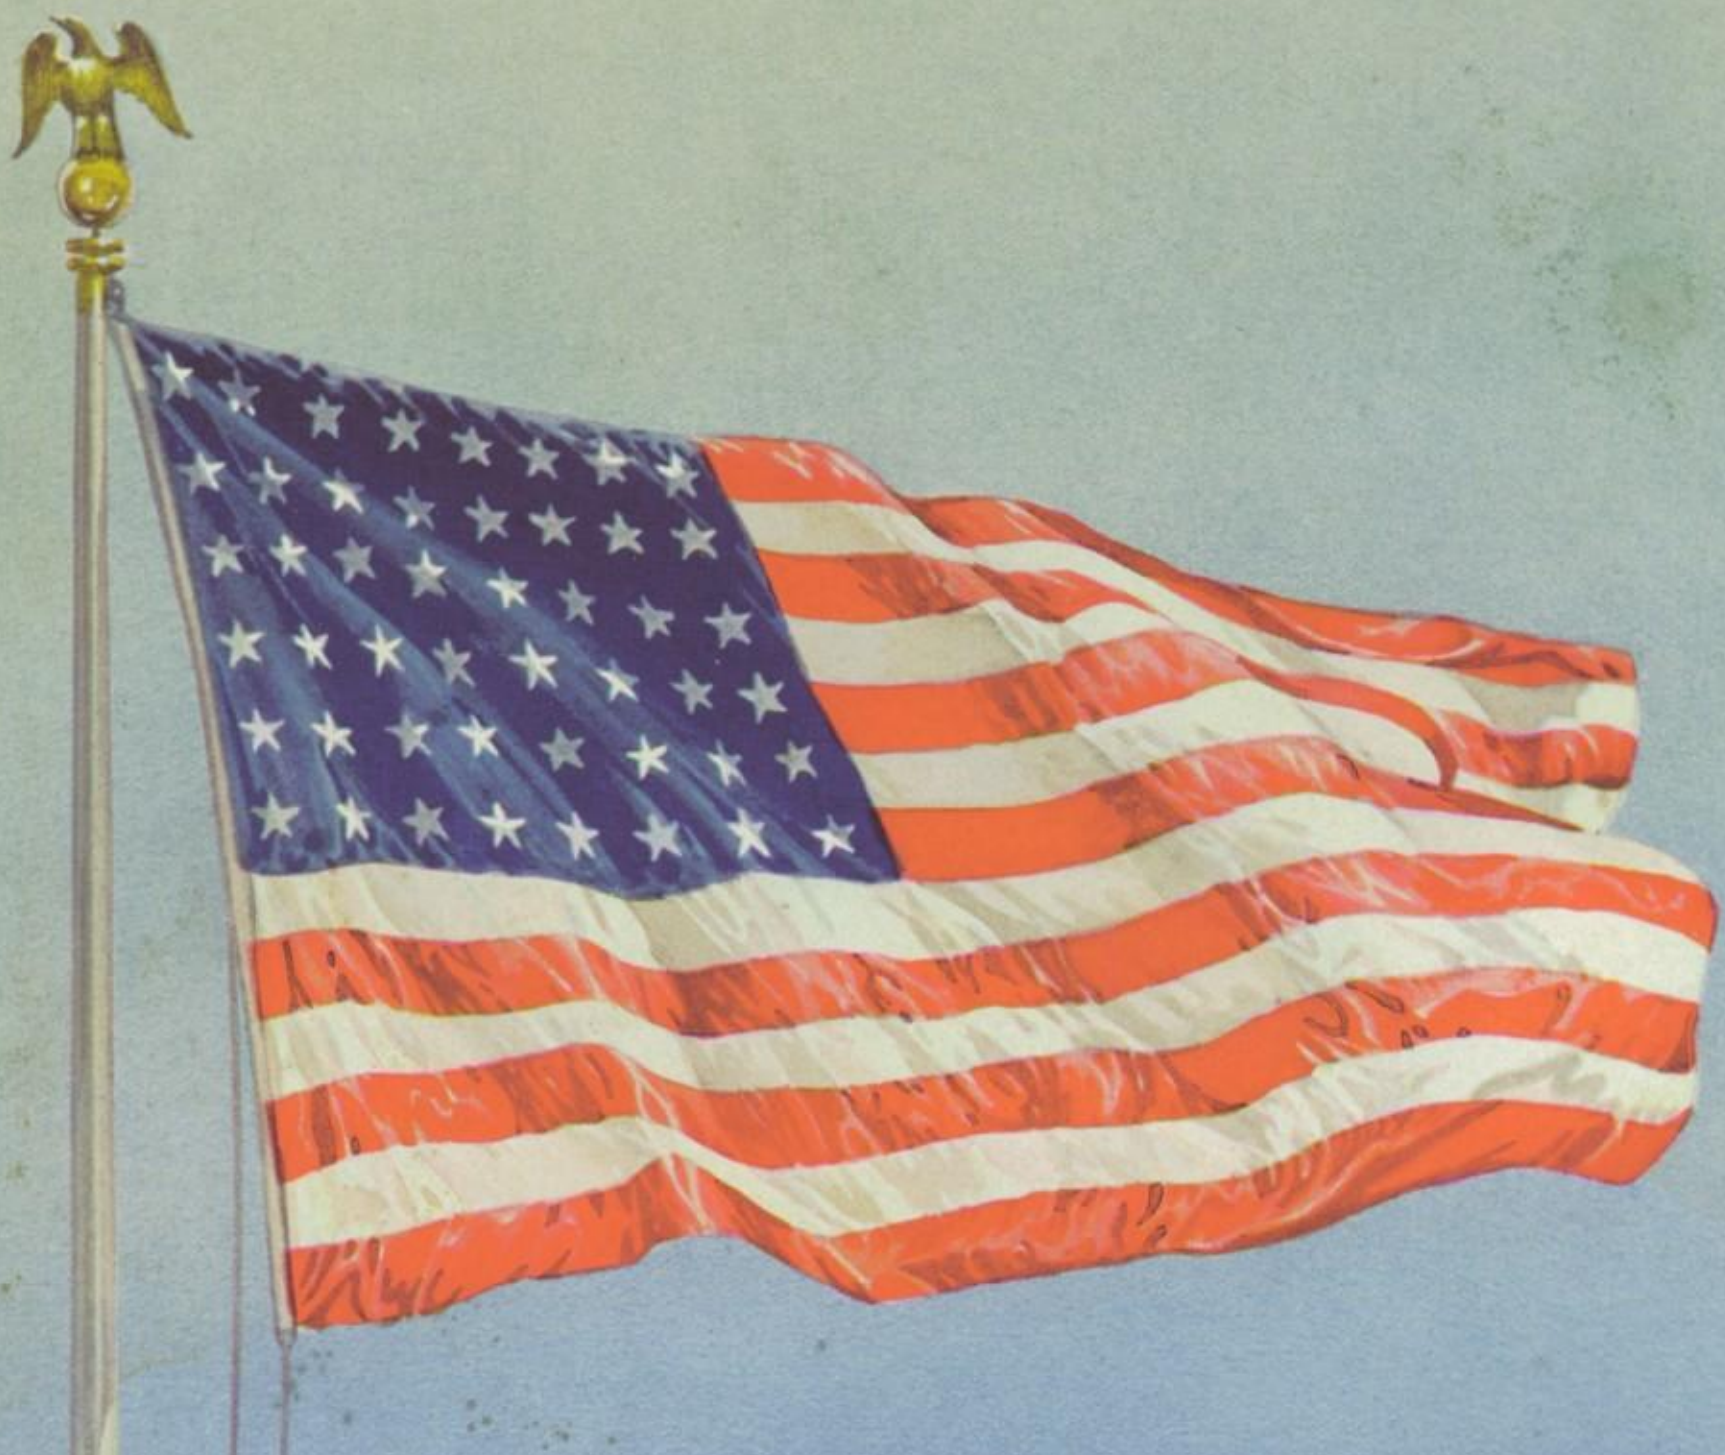
The Star-Spangled Banner

O say, can you see, by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hailed at the twilight's last gleaming,
Whose broad stripes and bright stars, thro' the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watched, were so gallantly streaming?
And the rockets' red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof thro' the night that our flag was still there.
O say, does that star-spangled banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?

On the shore dimly seen thro' the mists of the deep,
Where the foe's haughty host in dread silence reposes,
What is that which the breeze, o'er the towering steep,
As it fitfully blows, half conceals, half discloses?
Now it catches the gleam of the morning's first beam,
In full glory reflected now shines on the stream:
'Tis the star-spangled banner: O long may it wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave!

O thus be it ever when freemen shall stand
Between their loved home and wild war's desolation;
Blest with victory and peace, may the heaven-rescued land
Praise the power that hath made and preserved us a nation!
Then conquer we must, when our cause it is just,
And this be our motto: "In God is our trust!"
And the star-spangled banner in triumph shall wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave.



"I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands, one Nation indivisible, with liberty and justice for all"

School Days

School days. School days. Self-important seniors strolling to class to catch up on the latest news, jaunty juniors already thinking about their prom, silly sophomores forever worrying about keeping up with the styles, and frightened freshies reading the numbers on the doors and usually ending up in the wrong place—a typical day at Norwood High.

"Seventeen" became the high school girl's friend and companion. Frank Sinatra and Franklin D. Roosevelt again proved the people's choice in their various professions. Skirts were not so full, but neatly pleated, and sweaters less bag-like in shape. Regardless of rationing, saddles and casuals reigned supreme, and that new sleek hair-do became popular although bangs and pomps were still much in evidence. The burr haircut still prevailed among our male population, while drapes, less zooty suits, bright plaid shirts, soft cashmeres, and gay socks and ties adorned their manly (?) frames.

After an unusually warm autumn, Norwood welcomed a white Christmas—and then some. In fact, the ground remained covered by a sheet of ice and snow all winter long. The Eton cap, a dink with a tiny visor, made its appearance in all colors, no doubt to keep the brains of style-conscious chicks warm.

We went to all the games and dances, wangled dates for the class plays and prom, in fact we did about everything and loved it. The woeful looks on the seniors' faces at exam time made the freshmen glad for once that they were freshmen. We proudly said goodbye to all the guys who joined up with Uncle Sam, looking forward to the time they would come marching home again.

We had fun, but we had our serious side too. The whole student body was conscious of a deep responsibility to our boys fighting for us in some foreign country. Every Monday we bought stamps and bonds, dedicating field ambulances for each of our gold stars. Our boys enrolled in preinduction classes, while the girls backed them up by making surgical dressings and scrapbooks and taking first aid and nursing courses. We worked hard on scrap and paper drives and clothes collections. We did all these things and many more. We are proud of our part, but we are humble when we remember how small our share in victory is compared to that of others.

"Don't Fence Me In"

Just a song title—yes! But what a difference it would make to our civilization if high school students were to use it as an expression of their educational ambitions.

Gone, indeed, would be those false measures of educational achievement—required books to be read, so many credits to be earned, so many hours to be spent.

In their place would come the quest for the pertinent facts out of which judgment grows. In consequence, tomorrow's America would become a stronger, richer, better place in which to live.

Not a bad idea—"Don't Fence Me In!"

While War Goes On

B. M. HANNA,
Principal of Norwood High School

Norwood men and women are fighting on every battle front and are giving an excellent account of themselves. It must be our serious purpose to encourage them, to give them every support within our power, and to match their sacrifice in every way possible. Only by doing our full share may we be worthy of the lasting peace for which we are all striving.

BEN M. HANNA,
Principal

To employ oneself in the pursuit of education is to contribute an important service toward victory in the present war and an everlasting world peace.

RAY WARMOTH,
Acting Dean of Boys

The stability and good citizenship of our students under the stresses of war increase our faith in their ability to solve the problems of peace.

CHARLOTTE E. KEHM,
Dean of Girls

Ray Warmoth, Acting Dean of Boys; Janet Bennett and Martha Rahe, Office Staff; Charlotte Kehm, Dean of Girls.

Too young to worry about exams, but too old to mix with the lower classmen—that's the Upper Juniors. They will rightfully rule the school next year, and if we can judge from past records, they will do a great job of it.

To raise money for their Junior Prom, the year's highlight socially, the eleven uppers sponsored two dances in the fieldhouse, the "Aces Wild" and the "Prom Preview."

The prom, as usual, was formal. The lucky people who attended, danced to their favorite haunting strains, enjoyed the gorgeous decorations, and anxiously awaited the Queen's name.

Many members went out for track, baseball, basketball, and football, helping to keep Norwood on the ball, athletically.

Having quality, if not quantity, was the lower junior class at the end of the year, with only two homerooms remaining. The girls in 203 excelled in scholarship, keeping the National Honor Society pennant in their homeroom with an unusually high percentage. In the sports line the lower juniors were tops, the boys taking the intramural championship, besides having some of their classmates on the school teams, and the girls winning the G. A. A. trophy by a tight score, 22-21. For the big event of the year, the Prom, they took active part, having two girls for Prom candidates. All three posture winners for Girls' Week were from 203.

With more than the usual display of talent, brains, and beauty, this class again maintained a high standing. They were all out for school and class projects. You can find them in every sport and club. The girls copped the blue ribbon for their song during Girls' Week. The men are definitely on the athletic side, having members in every sport. When it comes to swing this group is on the solid side. Cooperating with the other lower classmen, they managed to throw several successful dances. One of the English classes wrote and published 300 copies of "Ink Spots," a hilarious student magazine, and then donated the money to the Athletic Association.

Presenting the industrious lower sophomores—one step away from their freshman days. Although entering in February, 1944, the tenth lowers have the makings of a distinguished class—intelligence, enthusiasm, and beauty, with a capital "B." They have displayed their zeal and perseverance in school activities and boast numerous athletes. The lower sophomore boys have one of the most active Hi-Y clubs. These bright students contribute much to all four glee clubs. The Athletic Association also received a donation from these hard-working ten lowers.

By sponsoring one of the first paper drives of the year, the enterprising upper freshmen started off the year with a bang. After their first few weeks they acclimated themselves and settled down to a more advanced life. Making rapid progress in high school life, they were not outdone in the social circle. They helped put over several lower classmen dances and donated money to the Athletic Association fund by sponsoring bake sales.

With an added something, more boys than girls, besides having more members than most mid-year classes, the lower freshmen recovered from their early "greenness," and prepared to take everything in their stride.

They joined clubs and organizations, attended athletic events, dances, and other school activities, giving their patronage to all worthwhile causes. These freshies are looking forward to coming years (financing the Junior Prom and exams) with high hopes for the successful outcome. We only hope they can do as well as their predecessors.

Students of all ranks rest their musical bones in study hall 210. Although many of their homeroom periods are spent in band and orchestra rehearsals, these fun-loving students find excess time to participate in school and outside recreation. Practically every club is graced by their presence. The daily heard "bugle boy" resides in this talented homeroom. The girls carried away third prize in the Girls' Week song contest.

Scholarship, leadership, service, and character are the qualities for which every member of National Honor Society strives. Each semester the Norwood chapter may initiate five per cent of the upper junior and senior classes, the candidates being chosen from the upper twenty-five per cent of their class in scholarship. The society also awards pennants to the ninth and tenth grade boys' and girls' homeroom having the highest average.

Spanish Club, which received the name Los Indios last year, was organized many years ago for the purpose of promoting interest in, and information about, the geography, culture, and customs of the Spanish speaking peoples and countries. Individual Spanish classes have their own small clubs and the whole group, Los Indios, combines for a big meeting once a month. The club sponsored several shows during the year.

Under the supervision of Miss Beavers and Miss Stevenson, the Latin Club again resumed its importance among Latin students. The group met the last Thursday of each month. Among their many activities, the club had a Christmas party and gave the first ambulance bond drive of 1945. Latin Week, March 12 to 17, the club celebrated by sponsoring their second bond drive. During this week the students arranged interesting displays in the showcases and gave the flowers in the memorial case.

This year the Band helped to create a gala air of festivity at the football games and other school affairs. They added snappy new fanfares and clever formations to their routine. At the Withrow game, their performance included a colorful and spirited Indian dance.

Many times the Band members arose in the wee hours and trekked to the library or city hall to give selectees a cheerful send-off.

"N" Club was organized by the reserve team of '43-'44 after losing a game to Roger Bacon. The purpose of the club is to promote a higher standard of athletics at Norwood High. To be eligible for the club a boy must earn a varsity or reserve letter "N" and live up to the standards of the club.

When football practice started August 19 hopes were high for a successful season, with Peirano, serving as captain and Hilgeman as co-captain. Lettermen Peirano, Moore, Owings, Deiss, Hepp, Myers, Lucas, Schultz, and Anderson formed a formidable squad. The season told a different story as Coach Hale's first year at Norwood ended disastrously. The record: one victory, seven defeats; total opposition points 214; Norwood total, 22.

The Indians showed up well in their season's debut with Western Hills, September 22. The powerful Price Hill aggregation won 26-0.

Norwood eked out a 2-0 verdict over Fairfield for its first grid victory since early 1942. The score came in the second quarter when Pete Sterrett blocked a Fairfield punt which went out of the end zone for an automatic safety.

Traveling north to Lima the following Saturday, the Redskins suffered their worst defeat of the season at the hands of Lima South's Tigers, 41-0.

A Civic Night crowd saw the Indians bow to a hard hitting Xavier eleven, 22-0.

October 20 saw the Indians romped over by a powerful Lockland squad, 26-0.

The disheartened Redskins were trounced 40-0 by the Tigers of Withrow, who scored a touchdown on their second play and kept right on going.

Bobby Sterrett, ably assisted by brilliant end play by Deiss and Hepp, kept the Indians in the game until the last play as Woodward's Bulldogs captured a 25-20 decision. The stands rocked as the Indians scored their first touchdowns of the season.

The season ended with the Bluebirds of Highlands invading the local gridiron and handing our Indians a 34-0 walloping.

Whitey Gerrard's high-flying Papooses gained valuable experience and showed great promise as they triumphed in two of their five tilts. Reserve mainstays were Bill Hammond, Lee Haslinger, Al Fishback, Clyde Sager, Dick Hepp, Dick Combs, Bob Beckstedt, and Howard Lucas. Although they won from Deer Park and St. Bernard, the Paps were defeated by Western Hills, Withrow, and Woodward.

Whitey Gerrard's second year as Norwood cage mentor produced one of Greater Cincinnati's top flight squads. The high-flying Indians won eleven, lost six, and were second only to Xavier in Class A play. Mainstays in the Indian lineup were five seniors whose four years of working together enabled them to display speed and teamwork. The stars were Captain Peirano, Wettig, Deiss, Tipton, and B. Sterrett. Able reserve strength was on hand in F. Sterrett, Beckstedt, Isaacs, Schardt, Wolf, and Wood.

Opening the season on the home floor December 3, the Indians lost a hard fought battle to St. Bernard, 31-23.

Breaking into the win column, the Indians trounced Purcell's Cavaliers, 36-20.

Tipton sank thirteen points as his team mates toppled the giant-sized Reading five, 34-28.

The final gun canceled a Bacon basket and Norwood whitewashing Central Vocational.

Cheerleaders F. Wilson, B. Couden, M. Becksmith, and A. Eschenbach practice for a big game.

the Indians won, 37-36 in one of the year's top thrillers.

By making eighteen points, Wettig paced the Redskins to an easy 39-24 victory over Wyoming.

Wettig scored eleven points as the Indians nosed out our perennial rival, Withrow, on their floor, 29-26.

Lockland's Panthers were number six on the Indian victory parade to a tune of 39-25.

Central Vocational ran the Indian streak to seven as they were easily swamped, 44-17.

The Indians battled Plainville in one of the top features of the prep season, with the Blue Devils winning, 33-30.

Rebounding the next week, the Indians took Western Hills into camp, 45-36.

Hamilton's powerful Big Blues downed the Redskins, 39-27.

The Indians defeated Highlands the following week, 43-37.

A freak decision enabled Xavier to win by the close score of 28-26.

Woodward pulled the upset of the year by spilling the Indians, 22-19.

Bob Sterrett was high scorer as the Indians regained their old form to beat Withrow, 43-35.

The last home game saw Walnut Hills defeated 38-29.

In the last game of the season Norwood lost to Covington Holmes.

The Papooses had one of the best seasons of any Norwood reserve squad. Led by Hall, Hammond, and Haslinger, the Paps won twelve and lost five. After dropping three of their first four games, they settled down, won ten straight, but lost the last two games.

"Vocational guidance and training to provide three square meals daily" is the aim of one of Norwood's new clubs, the Industrial Retailers' Association. The club is state-wide, each high school having an individual club. Representatives from Norwood attended the state meetings in October and May. The group, members of the distributive co-op class, met on the second and fourth Thursday, with social activities at each meeting. Among the other activities were a skating party, supper at Mills, a bowling party, and several theater parties.

"Paint Spots," which was instituted by Miss Strain and is now sponsored by Mr. Olmes, has been added to the extra curricular program in the interest of art appreciation.

The club sponsored a bake sale and a movie. They visited the Thorne Miniature Rooms Collection and brightened the front hall with their art exhibit, which was altered regularly. Several social events, plus the weekly business meetings, have also constituted the club's activities. Before the close of school, a special enthusiastic membership drive was innovated in order to obtain new members who would carry on the club next year.

Baseball, America's favorite sport. Shuffleboard enthusiasts practice up their game. Ping-pong provides pleasant and profitable exercise.

Active since 1929, the G. A. A. is open to all girls who wish to participate in sports. Because no dues are collected, the girls sell candy, hot dogs, and cokes at the football games.

The aim of the G. A. A. is to have a sport for every girl and every girl in a sport. These include several seasonal sports, composed of hiking, bicycling, baseball, basketball, archery, and a few year round sports, such as swimming, ping-pong, and shuffleboard. Bowling, popular in other years, was discontinued due to the shortage of pin-boys.

Points are given for participation in any sport and an individual earning 100 points receives an emblem. A total of 1000 points entitles a girl to a big "N," and each additional 100 points earns a bar.

At the close of the school year, the G. A. A. elects a board for the following year to plan and organize the sports and other activities under the faculty advisors, Miss Griffin, Miss Thayer, Miss Rea, and Miss Kehm.

Archery, managed by V. Retallick, is especially popular during the spring and fall months although this year it has frequently been conducted in the girls' gym during the cold weather. This is one of the hardest sports in which to earn an emblem, but nevertheless, it has a great many participants. Points are given for attendance and for the score made by hitting the target.

Baseball, America's favorite sport, is well represented in G. A. A., since the turnout for this sport is always good. Come spring and you can see M. Chaney and her girls out practicing for the tournament games held later in the season. The champions got 35 points toward their emblems and runners-up got 25.

The highlight of this year's sports was the basketball tournament played off according to homerooms, with the winners receiving a silver trophy as a reward. Again the champs were awarded 35 points and contenders 25. Interest in this sport was heightened by the renewal of inter-school competition. A selected team visited and played host to the teams of various schools.

Although there is no emblem offered in bicycling, a half point per mile is given toward an "N." However, an emblem is offered for hiking and 1 point is given for every mile hiked. A group of hikers under the management of L. Barhorst included at least 5 girls, and no hikes of less than 5 miles were credited.

The competition and interest was keen in ping-pong, even though no emblem was given. However, all points count toward a big "N." Each girl must play in 3 games, each counting 5 points. Likewise, no emblem is offered for shuffleboard, but many girls participated in it for the fun of the game.

Swimming, under the leadership of D. Larsen, attracted a large number of girls. Not only does it feature endurance swimming and life-saving, but once a week anyone may go in for a free swim. Each girl making 100 points is entitled to an emblem.

The annual Girls' Week sponsored jointly by G. A. A. and Girls' Advisory Council was the highlight of the year from the feminine standpoint of view. Mayor B. O'Connell and Vice-Mayor J. Kidder, with the able assistance of Fire Chief D. Larsen and Police Chief P. Grower, ruled the city.

The usual chain of events occurred—a posture parade, flower sale, and basketball tournament. The chili supper on Thursday was followed by homeroom song contest and a program.

Wartime restrictions, four and five o'clock deadlines daily—all had to be met by this year's "Mirror" staff. However, the editors again tried to fulfill the paper's motto, "A Reflection of Norwood High School," and obtain all the news on time, ably assisted by their junior editors. Make-up day for the paper's dummy was Friday, with the final checkup at the print shop on Saturday morning.

The first Commercial Cooperative class was formed in the fall of 1940. Since then twelve boys and one hundred fifteen girls have followed this work-study program during their senior year.

Thirty dependable girls make up the class of 1944-45. Most of them expect to continue with their stenographic and clerical work full time after graduation.

Total wages earned by the class, $8,320. Also, the class had charge of the window displays during the Red Cross campaign.

A fall fish fry, a Washington's Birthday party, and a spring picnic were among the class social affairs.

G. A. C.

The Girls Advisory Council is made up of a representative and an alternate from each girls' homeroom. The Council meets on Tuesday morning in the homeroom period and concerns itself with school projects or problems, particularly concerning girls. It has been instrumental in planning the war bond and stamp sale drive for the purchase of memorial field ambulances; it has planned a major part of Girls' Week in cooperation with the G. A. A.; it worked with Student Council on Student Sacrifice Week; at Christmas it sent fifteen cartons of clothing to mountain schools in Kentucky, and distributed through the school the holly and decorative greens received in return. The Council advises the dean of girls. It presented four bonds to the high school memorial fund last year as a gift from the girls in each grade.

Classes

ENGLISH

Student needs in a changing world require vigilance if a curriculum is to be functional. English courses are kept practical so that students can apply their learning in other departments and to life.

To meet special needs the English Department offers courses for commercial, retail trades, and vocational shop groups. These are in addition to the traditional academic course.

Remedial classes continue to help students increase their skill in reading and reading cards serve to guide in book selections.

A systematic testing program reveals students' achievements and weaknesses to be overcome.

An essay and a poetry contest are yearly challenges to English students.

Eleven teachers carry out the program.

LANGUAGE

At Norwood High School two foreign languages are taught—Latin and Spanish. Latin is the base of most modern languages, including English, and is very helpful in learning the vocabulary and grammar of English, French, Italian, Portuguese, and Spanish. Spanish is spoken by our neighbors in Mexico and all the South American republics, except Brazil. Since we shall see a great deal of these neighbors after the war, Spanish may be America's second language.

GENERAL SCIENCE

General science is a study which attempts to develop a general understanding and appreciation of each of the major sciences, and of the principles by which these sciences explain the natural conditions about us.

CHEMISTRY

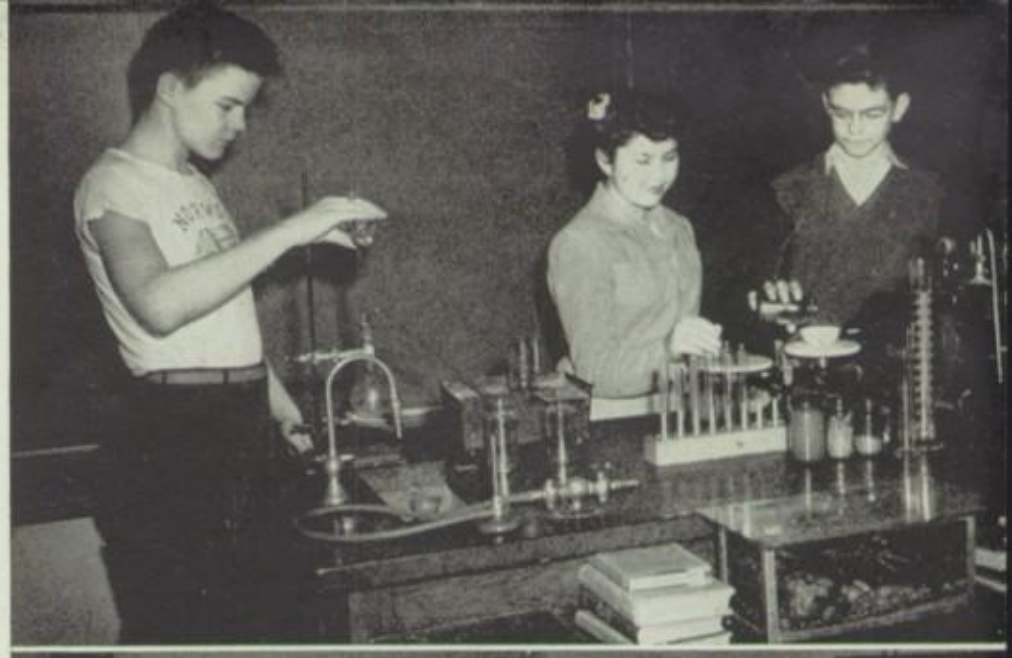
We are living in a chemical age, and we are surrounded by products of the laboratory. We study the application of the scientific method, the prinicples of chemistry, and learn many practical applications of principles.

BIOLOGY

In biology we study all animals from ameba to man, all plants from bacteria to roses. The microscope shows us why we should wash our hands before eating and why we are so much like grandfather.

PHYSICS

High school physics is the science that teaches the basic facts of natural law. Although its most definite application is in the field of engineering, physics is of great value to those who wish to understand electricity, sound, and electronics.



What are Einstein's little freshmen helpers cooking up?

Experiment Perilous. Oh well, I didn't need that hand anyway.

GIRLS' PHYSICAL EDUCATION

The Girls' Physical and Health Education Department endeavors to promote the principles of education that lead to happy, efficient, healthful living in a democratic society. We welcome, as a new staff member, a former Norwood High School graduate, Miss Ruth Thayer.

BOYS' PHYSICAL EDUCATION

The Boys' Physical Education Program is faced with preparing our youth for war time requirements. The program has been designed to meet a wartime condition of strength, stamina, coordination, agility, and aquatic skills far beyond that required for peace time pursuits.

MUSIC

Vocal and instrumental music offered to students includes glee clubs, a choir, a band, and an orchestra. Each activity offers one-fourth credit per year. Theory, harmony, and music appreciation are offered as one credit subjects. Miss Ewing and Mr. Humberger direct these organizations.

LIBRARY

The library, under the management of Miss Moore and a volunteer student staff, is open to all students for reference work and leisure reading during the day and after school. Books, from the collection on the shelves, may be taken out for one or two week periods.

The after-effects are worse than this.

These Atlas Maidenswoons improve their manly forms.

Melodious Mendelsson's compose melodies.

You can't judge a book by its cover.

COMMERCIAL

The training for office work continues to be a popular field for our high school pupils. Approximately one-third of the seniors selected one of their majors from the commercial course. Business methods, bookkeeping, business management, office practice, shorthand, typewriting, business English, and commercial law are offered by the Commercial Department. Our equipment and methods of instruction are as modern and up-to-date as we can make them. Many of our students passed the Civil Service examinations in May and received appointments. Others received merit pins for various tasks well done.

INDUSTRIES

The first semester's work consisted of woodworking and drawing—a continuation of the retrenchment of a year ago. However, Mr. Gates came to our department early in February, and we were able, once more, to offer general metal work. Enrollment has remained quite large.

VOCATIONAL EDUCATION

The Vocational Education Department is made up of three main branches—the commercial coop, retail selling, and trades and industries. The machine shop classes and the aircraft engine repair classes are parts of the trades and industries program.

The past year has seen much work and post-war planning for a new course of study for our high school which will offer many new curricula, plans for additional shops, laboratories, and classrooms.

Future secretaries learn the fundamentals of typing.

These office practice students forget to smile for the birdie.

Termites beware! No trespassing in the woodworking department.

HOME ECONOMICS

It is of more importance that all students have some work in the field of homemaking than that a few students be prepared for specialized vocations. Hence, the Home Economics Department at the present time does not train a girl for any specific vocation. However, she will find the work valuable preliminary training for the numerous opportunities now open to women today.

The processes of learning how to live and of living center in the home. Genuine homemaking is much more than what is called housekeeping. It is a business, a science and an art. It is the greatest of all the professions.

DRAMA

Dramatics promotes growth in physical, mental, and social skills. Some students enjoy acting and writing, while others prefer to serve as electricians, designers, or make-up artists. All study fundamentals of acting, dramatic criticism, and stage design.

ART

If you can't speak it, or write it, maybe you can draw it. Whatever your art talents, there should be some place for them to shine in the art department. Imitate, interpret, create—that's fun.

These modern lassies learn modern design.

It is a lucky fellow that gets one of these students.

One must suffer for one's art.

SOCIAL STUDIES

The social studies program has the very difficult task of trying to help Norwood High pupils acquire a helpful understanding of some of the meaningful events and real values of the past and present.

It is more than a training program, it is an educational aim. The pupil will have to contribute generously of his time and effort to accomplish much in this field. An organization of nations may help in preventing war, but a lasting peace will have to be built on social and ethical values and understandings widely held and deeply felt.

The courses which at present serve as a start toward this goal are: American history and government, world history, economic geography, commercial law, economics and modern problems.

MATHEMATICS

Mathematics is contributing much toward the war effort. This is a war of machines and of specialists. A sound training in the fundamentals of mathematics is a great asset to those in the armed forces and to those in war work at home. Mathematics will play an important part in the readjustment period following the war.

Norwood High School has an extensive course of study in mathematics planned to meet the needs of its students.
